

TESTIMONIALS about MARTY AVERY: Speaker, Workshop Leader, Facilitator

“I’ve been fortunate to have heard many keynote speeches given by Marty Avery. Marty has a rare combination of strategic perspective and creative vision. As an entrepreneur, I recognize and appreciate the valuable insight provided by the depth and breadth of her business experience and vast professional network.

Always prepared; never predictable. Marty’s speeches are, at once, erudite and entertaining.”

Victoria Young
President, Riverstone Insurance

“Marty, I absolutely loved your speech. You are a one-of-a-kind speaker that is naturally engaging, entertaining and FULL of life. From the moment you took the lectern at the front of the room, to having me fully engulfed in your story and then to wrap it up in a meaningful purpose was fantastic! I enjoyed every second of it. You have a natural talent for story telling and educating us in a most unsuspecting way! I look forward to the next time I am able to see you speak!!!

Thanks for the happy ending, I’ll always remember it!”

Jean Slemko
Systems Analyst

“Hi Marty

I think you are an amazing speaker!!! I have learned so much in a short amount of time...from you!!!

Thank you!!!”

Jean Hudson, WPO

“I find myself at business events every week with speakers that frequently claim that they are the go-to source on networks and relationship building...ho hum. Marty Avery’s session is a revelation – powerful advice sprinkled with compelling dialogue.

Marty's interactive workshop elevated the room to an astonishing level of instant intimacy. With her keen insights into the true meaning of networks, she introduced us to techniques and language that helped us to establish the deep connections that lead to selling our ideas and ourselves. When Marty is in the room I feel enveloped in her reign of positive energy. She is the goddess of gaspingly penetrating questions. Question - What if you had the chance to see Marty Avery in action?

Answer - Go! ... and go as often as you can."

Debbie Dimoff,
VP Strategy and Administrative Services
PMI Canada

"Marty has a knack for cross-fertilizing ideas and naturally transfers and applies knowledge into a new environment. To do that, she is observant, watchful, and pays close attention to process and path. She does this with abundant energy and enthusiasm, and in so doing, is able to gather and unite folks with wide and sometimes divergent interests. She is able to delve into technical issues, and yet bring the necessary edge of creativity to a situation requiring a turnaround, or transformation. In my opinion, she possesses a rare and valuable combination of skills and is a walking catalyst... a force of nature."

"Thank you for all your ideas. I love how your mind is always whirring- seeking out the possibilities. Exploring potential in your self and others. It's a great quality."

David Lavalley, Filmmaker

"I talk about you and what you taught us a lot, I listen more to people, I even coached some guys... You are fantastic!

TESTIMONIALS about MARTY AVERY: Speaker, Workshop Leader, Facilitator

What I like the most from you is that you understand something that not a lot of people do : human relationships are everything and we have to be nice and take care of others. Maybe we should become prophets and tour the world with this message. I would be the assistant prophet heee heee... I am joking but it makes me cry when I talk with people who became egocentric because [they are] jaded from past experiences... and I think the way you approach things is a key to happiness!”

“Marty-

Wanted to say thanks for the workshop at Habitat this past Monday, and to apologize for being a little out of it- I wasn't feeling that well and found it hard to participate as much as I would have liked to. In any case, the workshop was eye-opening, both on a personal level (I've never been much of a networker) and in terms of helping our group.”

“Marty, that was the most amazing and powerful speech I've ever heard! You did have a powerful impact through the message also. A message that I will take with me and work on. Thank you.”

“Marty, I just wanted to thank you again for a great week. I don't think I'd fully understood just how much territory we'd covered until I spent last night (Friday evening) with a few actor and producer friends.

When I started telling them about our two days of pitching training and just how emotionally exhausting it was to be taken to task until even nuances were understood and appreciated, I was the belle of the ball. I think some of them would have whipped out notepads and started taking dictation if circumstances had permitted.

Anyway, thanks again. I'm looking forward to staying in touch. For introverts like me, extroverts like you can be a real shot in the arm! ;)"

“ Marty is a warm and charismatic speaker and inspiring to me because she:

a) is a truly creative spirit, taking every opportunity to question every thing that she sees, thinking out of the box, and never doing the same thing twice. Her email signature says “What if you never asked the right question?”

b) is seeking to understand the power inside the mind, body and soul. Through the study of Chi Quong, she is becoming a master of the energy and self, and shares this knowledge with others.

c) is an expert, and openly teaches her strategies of how she opens people's minds to new ideas.

d) is a terrific leader in understanding the personal side of business relationships. I learned that business relationships are relationships first and should be treated as such. She understands how to gain trust with people to foster sincere connections and tells memorable anecdotes... I know other people would learn a lot from her experience and understanding of human relationships.”

“You managed to break down the big idea into a systematic, logical approach, explaining the why's and goals along the way. I had so much fun... learning how to create an awesome presentation (for which I was complimented by the client). I think you have an amazing talent to extract the essential, put it into perspective and relate it back to the big picture while pointing out the interdependencies and risks. I trusted you quickly. I feel you are very knowledgeable and genuine, and know what you are talking about, and that makes you respectable. You are truly an inspiration to me.”

“Hello Marty,

I want to drop you a quick line to thank you for your fantastic work at Banff last week. It was really a pleasure seeing you counsel the teams. You have a ton of very strategic and applicable advice to give and I know that what you were saying was hitting home with most people in the room, on both sides of the screen!

I am very glad to have you in the neighborhood and look forward to working with you when and where possible in the future.”

Susan Kennard

Director and Executive Producer, BNMI, Banff Centre

“Marty inspires. She has a great knack for asking the right questions. I ...can verify she is indeed in the right profession – as the chief catalyst of What If? she helps clients answer questions they need to ask, and most likely didn't even know it. She is very perceptive and can speak to a variety of topics – I would highly recommend her as a motivational speaker and suggest What If? for best practices and sound business advice.”

“We engaged Marty as Facilitator for a 2 day Symposium at CIGI. From start to finish, it was a pleasure to work with Marty - she excels at sideways thinking, pushing the envelope, and expanding the horizons and possibilities. As a Facilitator, Marty was superb at handling the micro and macro level details to ensure that our event was handled well at all levels.”

"I so enjoyed meeting you and being in your presence. The session was insightful and fascinating to see your style. Unique and engaging. It was a method I'd tend to myself, organic and flexible, yet carrying focused messages. I think it's a tough one to get the linear people to applaud every time. But it was so educational and stimulating on so many deeper channels.

More for me than trying to assess the "workshop", was to get a flavour of how you work. I can see that you must be very compelling for executives locked up in form. You are a great break out intervention."

"From my perspective, the keynote went brilliantly. I personally got a lot out of it, and loved the way you wove the principles into your keynote. It was a delight to see a "non-stodgy" (that's my official term for it!) keynote speaker, someone who had fun but still delivered a message and, most importantly, involved the audience in the process!"

Lindsay Parker

TESTIMONIALS about MARTY AVERY: Speaker, Workshop Leader, Facilitator

“Marty Avery is an expert presenter, listener and connector. In the 2 years that I've relied on her services to mentor, coach, teach, connect and network I've continually been impressed with the level of enthusiasm she brings to each project and how that enthusiasm undoubtedly rubs off on those that she works with. Marty is a new school thinker skillfully combining a multiple array of disciplines, experiences, interests into a friendly, digestible and meaningful package. A package which helps individuals and organizations achieve their potential while navigating through complex ideas around innovation, social change and profitability.”

“Marty Avery was one of the best speakers in our business series. She went above and beyond to know our audience, tailoring the presentation to the crowd and managing to work in their stories and experiences to make the topic both interesting and personal. We’ve had participants contact us specifically to thank us for the session and even more, other’s have let us know they have applied her ideas to grow their organizations. We wouldn’t hesitate to recommend Marty both as an expert in her area but also as a strong and engaging speaker.”
